ROLE PLAY DISTRICTS

Role Play Districts

This past week, Penn's role play members showcased their talents in the district competition. In these unique role play events, participants step into the shoes of business consultants. They are presented with a complex business situation from a wide array of categories such as marketing, finance, and hospitality, and their task is to deliver strategic advice to a judge who assumes the role as a CEO, business owner, colleague, etc. This format tests their ability to think on their feet and communicate effectively under pressure.

Great Success

Penn DECA had remarkable success in the recent competition, showcasing Penn's high standard of excellence. An impressive 54 members of our team placed in the top 5 across 13 different events. This outstanding achievement has earned these individuals a well-deserved qualification for the state-level competition in March. We are incredibly proud of their accomplishments and eagerly anticipate their continued success at the state competition.

Congratulations to all of the winners listed below! Your hard work, dedication, and exceptional skills have truly paid off, and you represent the best of what Penn DECA has to offer.
