

PNN Media Summer Camp 2024 Camper Registration

Come join the PNN Mass Media Summer Camp!

Penn News Network is the student-run news network of Penn High School. We are the source of information for the Penn community. Students produce multi-media content including: news broadcasts, web stories, photography, videography, graphic design, podcasts and social media. We live by our motto: People Need News.

This summer camp program gives participants an overview of the world of media communications. Campers will learn how to gather news and create a live broadcast. A focus will be given on learning how to write, shoot, edit and produce news stories. We will focus on learning how to tell impactful stories using modern story-telling equipment and mass-media channels. Each student will leave the summer camp with their own personal portfolio showcasing their work.

ABOUT MEDIA CAMP

The PNN Media Camp is a one week camp where campers write, shoot, edit and produce news stories about other summer camps at Penn High School. We will focus on learning how to tell stories using modern story-telling equipment and mass-media channels.

ABOUT REGISTRATION

The PNN Media Camp is open to grades 5 -8. The cost is $50 per camper and will include a reporter's notebook and t-shirt. The camp will be held at Penn High School in the Penn Mass Media Center from 1PM - 3PM. To register your student scan the QR code to fill out the required Google Form.

ABOUT ACTIVITIES

Students will be given the opportunity to explore various avenues of the mass media profession. This will include learning how to interview, shoot video, edit video, create graphics, create social media posts, and produce a live broadcast. All students will leave camp with a portfolio of their work.

What is PNN?

Penn News Network is the student-run news network of Penn High School. We are the source of information for many of Penn High School's students. We have a vital task: to make sure people know what is going on. And from this stems our motto: People Need News.

We do this not only through the news/announcements show, but also through our website, where we post web stories, and our digital signage, where we put announcements to keep people informed in a convenient and eye-catching way.
